

C O N T E N T S

	PAGE
Acknowledgements	iv
Introduction by HERMINIO MARTINS
Tristes Durées	v-xxii
PATRICIA GOLDEY
The Good Death: Personal Salvation and Community Identity.. .. .	1-16
JOÃO DE PINA-CABRAL and RUI FEIJÓ
Conflicting Attitudes to Death in Modern Portugal: The Question of Cemeteries	17-43
BRIAN JUAN O'NEILL
Dying and Inheriting in Rural Trás-os-Montes	44-74
M. F. BRANDÃO
Death and the Survival of the Rural Household in a Northwestern Principality	75-87
MARGARIDA DURÃES
Testamentary Practices in Venade (Minho), 1755-1815	88-96
AUGUSTO SANTOS SILVA
Oliveira Martins: Death in History.. .. .	97-104
T. F. EARLE
Death and the Imagination in Alexandre Herculano's Eurico	105-119
List of Works Cited	120-124

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The essays in this volume are based on the papers delivered at a Conference on Death in Modern Portugal held at St Antony's College, Oxford, on 25-26 June 1982. This Conference brought together a number of Portuguese and British scholars from a variety of disciplines in social studies and the humanities.

The Editors of this volume wish to thank not only those who participated in the Conference, but also the many others who contributed to its success. The organization of the Conference was made possible by the generous financial assistance of the U.K. branch of the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation. To the Chairman, Mr M. Essayan, Q.C., and to the then Director, Mr P. Brinson, whose willingness to consider what others might have regarded as an anomalous topic deserves special credit, we express our gratitude. A word of praise must also go to the Warden of St Antony's College and to the West European Centre for the warm welcome we all enjoyed.

The publication of these papers has been made possible by liberal subsidies received from the following Portuguese banks operating in the United Kingdom: the Banco Espírito Santo e Comercial de Lisboa, the Banco Nacional Ultramarino, the Banco Português do Atlântico, and the Banco Totta e Açores; from the Anglo-Portuguese Society (London); and from the Instituto Português do Livro (Lisbon). We are deeply indebted to these institutions for their munificent patronage. It is also thanks to the patient efforts of the Editors of JASO, who worked hard to overcome numerous difficulties, that this volume has been produced; may they accept our gratitude for all their help and co-operation.

Throughout the preparation of both the Conference and this publication the Editors were assisted with the encouragement and continuous support of Mr Eugénio Lisboa, the Cultural Counsellor at the Portuguese Embassy, whose admirable work in the field of Anglo-Portuguese cultural relations has earned the gratitude of many and, in a very special way, our own.

THE EDITORS